KEYES AVERS NAVAL TREATY NEARING END

Admiral of British Fleet Says Handicap Will be Removed

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Angering London naval treaty placed Great Britain under a handicap, Sir Roger Keyes, admiral of the fleet, predicted last night that it would be dropped when it terminates next year.

Sir Roger, chief of staff of the British fleet at the Dardanelles, said it was his opinion "that a nation should be allowed to have all ships necessary for the guarding of its trade routes and protection of its coastline."

"We began with 60 sea cruisers, but when we entered the Great War they were reduced to 30 cruisers later."

"At the time the treaty expires," he continued, "if these cruisers will not be replaced, we can see how obviously unfair it is."

Keyes, who toured Canada with Lady Keyes and went to Washington to talk with President Roosevelt and members of the United States naval staff, was interviewed by the board ship for home.

Further Evidence Points to Slayer of Airman's Child by Hauptmann

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—United States Attorney Samuel J. Faley announced today that investigators had found in Bruno Hauptmann's trunk road maps of the Newark, N.J., territory from New Jersey where the estate of Charles A. Lindbergh is located.

Faley also stated that Hauptmann is able to reproduce certain sections of the Hopewell, N.J., territory from memory even down to the smallest interesting forks of road.

"We have found in this trunk," Faley said, "an English dictionary, a copy of the most commonly used words, the most difficult words appearing in the famous novel 'The Great Gatsby' and a copy of the dictionary."

Faley said Hauptmann was able to draw maps of the Jersey territory with remarkable accuracy.

"We now know," the Bronx prosecutor said, "that he fled in these sections. He also had road maps covering the entire territory from Gary Head, Indiana's Bay, Indiana, to Mount Marquette, Michigan."

The Bronx district attorney has consistently refused to accept the possibility of a murder case. However, he did say today he has never contemplated the baby was not in New Jersey in fact we are now endeavoring to prove that it was not."

BRITISH NAVAL POLICY IS OPEN

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The delegations of Great Britain, the United States and Japan, meeting here for preliminary naval conversations about October 17, were said by authorities today to be likely to consider a plan for a general conference on the subject of naval disarmament in 1935 instead of just those three with France and Italy.

The forthcoming conversations also will decide, it was said authoritatively, whether the political aspects of naval problems will be considered in the first and final conference. The British government is expected to have an open mind on both matters.

PARIS GOSSIP LINKS HITLER WITH ACTRESS

Interest in Beautiful Leni Riefenstahl Talk of Boulevards

PARIS, Oct. 4.—Ever since Adolf Hitler came to power in Germany, the legend has been cultivated that he is too busy with affairs of state to give attention to any woman. This legend is now the object of gossip attack.

The reason—according to travelers returning from Germany—is a beautiful young actress, Leni Riefenstahl, 23 years old, who seems to have obtained a tremendous degree of influence in the Nazi regime.

The lovely Leni, in her official capacity, is virtual director of German films and the allied art. The public knows her as producer of "The Triumph of the Will" and "The Youth of Hitler," and she has her daily fingers in a hundred places.

Here are some of the observations recorded by Berlin gossip about the beautiful actress.

On the evening of the grand opening of "S.O.S. Leipzig," as well as Hitler's visit to Leipzig, attending the Nazi party congress, film chiefs tore their hair for how could the beautiful actress, Fraulein Riefenstahl, be absent.

The problem was solved when, half an hour before the performance was to begin, the huge, silver-colored airplane of the Nazi dictator dropped down at Leipzig airport and Leni stepped out.

BERIALS AGAINST INVOLVING CANADA IN WAR

KING WILL NOT SIGN NAZI PACT; HE SEEKS FACTS

Two Leaders of Party Going to Old Country to Learn First Hand Information Empire Treaties.

By THOS. WATLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—What do the British people really think about the Imperial conference agreements? Have they been hostile to British trade with Canada or have the barriers that have raised a lot and lowered a little impeded trade?

Will a return to the Dunning budget and pre-Bennett British preferential rule open wide the trade channels across the Atlantic again? These are some of the questions to be studied in England by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Hon. Ernest Bennett. The Liberal statesmen have gone to London to seek the truth so that when Mr. Bennett goes to the country with the Ottawa pact as his magnet upon the Liberals may be able to tell the country what actually has happened.

MANY CONJECTURES
A flood of conjecture has swept over Parliament Hill about the visit to London of Mr. King and Mr. Bennett. It is reported they have gone to London to participate in your parties about an alleged security pact. To preserve the democratic system of government.

Wickham Steed, Lord Howard and others are reported behind the scenes. They would draw in the British empire countries, the Scandinavian countries and other anti-dictatorship nations. The failure of the League of Nations to employ sanctions against offender nations is used as an argument for such a pact. General Smuts, who shares with General Henson the South African government, is reported on his way to London to participate.

DEFINITELY OPPOSED
So far as Canada is concerned she will have nothing to do with any such pact. Mr. King and Mr. Bennett are very definitely against any entangling alliances with non-British countries. These Liberal statesmen were Canada's delegates to the Imperial Conference of 1926 when they refused to sanction the point blank to fall for the military schemes of Lloyd George and Winston Churchill in the Chanak episode of 1922 and so saved the Empire from war with Turkey.

The Liberal statesmen have a head waiter objected to this scant costume and virtually ordered the barefooted Mrs. Mildred Tilton Holmen to leave the exclusive Reno, Nev., rendezvous where she sought refreshment. Her protest has set the divorce colony buzzing. The New York society matron says she considers her shorts and shirt adequate clothing. She seeks a divorce from Nicholas Holmen.

CASEY STENGEL SAYS MEDWICK IS "NATURAL"

Brooklyn Manager Has Praise for Cards and Tigers

By ALAN GOLD
DETROIT, Oct. 4.—An old world series hero himself and the man now best known for his part in giving to the Giants that Brooklyn is still in the National League. Casey Stengel, a few days more to say today for the Cardinals in general and the (Ducky Wucky) Medwick in particular.

"I'm not insisting that the Cardinals 'cut me in' on their world series money," smiled the Brooklyn manager, "but my club helped them prove they are the best team in the National League and get the chance to win this world series. As for Medwick, he is liable to blow more of the Tigers down than the Dons. He's one of the greatest natural hitters I have seen in years."

LOOKS RIPPED
Hitting stars of the opening game against the Tigers, with four home runs, including a homer that tied a world series record, Medwick looks ripe for a slugger's prize that will set an all-time mark.

Whether or not it is a case of temporary "buck fever," brought on by an accumulation of events, the fact is no club has looked quite so bad as the current Tigers at the onset of a big-money battle since the Pittsburgh Pirates of 1927 staggered into the National League championship and then outbombed the New York Yankees in four consecutive world series games.

TIGERS COURAGEOUS
Mickey Cochrane's jittery athletes may shake off the St. Louis Blues today. They are a far better ball club than they looked against Dean, Medwick and company in the opener. They proved they had courage and resolve in the "clutches" by the way they battered their way to the top of the American League but for the time being their case is ominously parallel to the plight of the Pirates seven seasons ago.

RELIEF SCALE ON FOOD WILL COST $68,000

Supt. McKee Makes Report to City's Finance Committee

If Edmonton continues its present relief food scale for the coming year (April, 1934, to July, 1935), the additional cost to the city will be $68,000. It is estimated by H. E. McKee, manager of the special relief department. A report containing this figure was presented at the regular Wednesday meeting of the city finance committee, which instructed commissioners to prepare further data on relief matters.

The food scale was boosted 25 per cent on the majority vote of city council early this year, and at that time the additional cost was estimated at $50,000. The increase in the number of relief food cases was estimated at $18,000 to the city for the remainder of the year. This extra cost is not shared by the federal and provincial governments. It is expected this figure will not be reached as the number of relief food cases is expected to decrease during the summer months, the federal government's relief program having helped to a certain extent.

Presenting a report on relief expenditures for the period August 1, 1933, to July 31, 1934, Mr. McKee gave the following figures: administration, $50,000.49; relief cost shared on the 21.5 per cent basis, the city, province and Dominion each contributing one-third, $83,600.52; relief expenditures on the 20 per cent basis, the city paying one-third, $69,067.10; non-contributing accounts which were paid 100 per cent by the city, $55,784.18; farm settlement scheme (actual amount expended by the city during the period), $13,066.32; total, $1,049,250.69.

NO CASH PAYMENT

Mr. McKee's report on any cash payment to relief cases instead of food, was not passed. He pointed out the fact there had been many instances where the city had had to foot a bill which should have been met by cash paid workers. He mentioned particularly the wages paid to men working at Cape Breton and said that men at the Cape Breton strike area Wednesday had been paid their wages on charges of intimidating a workman with a view to compelling him to abstain from working.

meeting of the committee to be called later.

TAX NOTICES

The committee failed to support Aid J. W. Findlay's motion of motion recommending radical changes in the city's tax policy form. It was the contention of Aid Findlay that taxpayers should be given further information on their duties as to how their taxes were apportioned.

Such changes would mean an expenditure of between $10,000 and $12,000 in machine for the assessment department. The committee decided, however, to substitute the wording "special franchise tax" for the present wording, "local improvement."

FEARS FELT FOR PRIEST

CHURCHILL, Mon., Oct. 4.—Grave fears for survival of Father Pigeon of the Catholic mission at Chesterfield Island, 450 miles north of here, were expressed last night after his disappearance while on a hunting trip.

Father Pigeon left Chesterfield last Friday morning on a two-day hunting trip with an Eskimo guide. They became separated and the guide, unable to find Father Pigeon, returned alone Monday night. Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Chesterfield have started a search for the missing priest.

Commission On Resources Will Resume Oct. 16

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—The royal commission enquiring into whether Alberta is entitled to additional compensation in respect of natural resources alienated by the Dominion government between 1900 and 1920 adjourned Wednesday until October 16. Mr. Justice Dwyer, presiding over the enquiry gave counsel for Alberta, M. M. Porter, his length of time to enable him to secure statistical and other data now being compiled.

During the week of July 31, 1,345 lumber mills in the United States produced 180,700,000 feet of lumber and shipped 14,834,000 feet, while their orders amounted to 205,521,000 feet.

The C.N.R. renders many essential services... constantly and efficiently.

SERVICE

The aspect of railway operation with which the general public is most familiar is, perhaps, that of passenger transportation, and undoubtedly facilities for speedy, safe and comfortable transportation, such as is provided by the Canadian railways, are of prime importance to the whole community. There are, however, other and equally important services rendered by railways — and by them alone. All these services blend into one complete whole, and the support which members of the public give through using the particular service or services they require, determines the extent to which the whole usefulness of a railway system can be placed at their disposal.

One service which at this time of the year invites public attention is that of carrying grain. Without adequate railway transportation the whole country would be placed under a serious handicap and millions upon millions of dollars of new wealth would be lost, for crops which could not be brought to market or to the seaboard would be of little value. This service is, of course, a seasonal one, lasting only through some months, but to perform it, tracks, engines and cars must be maintained all the year round, and on such a basis that even large crop harvests may be adequately handled. When the crop is small, the railway suffers through having less to carry — but the same necessity for it being there to provide transportation remains.

This is only one of the services which railways perform and which go directly to enriching the country and providing employment. In 1933 the C.N.R. carried over thirty-one million tons of freight. Some idea of the importance of this freight to the workers of Canada can be obtained from a glance at its nature. Over ten million tons consisted of coal and mine products... over three and a half million tons of forest products... almost a million tons of animals and animal products... almost a million tons of gasoline... and over five million tons of wheat and farm products.

In every department of service rendered by the C.N.R. there is a whole-hearted desire and effort to provide the best possible. That spirit permeates the entire system and the public can confidently use the C.N.R. feeling that complete satisfaction will be obtained.

WHO STARTED THE PANIC?

Mr. J. L. MacFarlane, who does the selling for the wheat pools, says somebody has sold too much wheat for future delivery, and wants the Dominion Government to investigate. He says the wheat pools are investigating. He said it on Monday; and on Tuesday the price dropped five cents a bushel.

There may have been coincidence, or a conspiracy. In any case it cost a lot of people money. The farmer who delivered wheat on Tuesday got less for it. Those who had bought wheat for future delivery saw their margin grow narrow, in some cases disappear and their investment vanish.

Whatever ground there was for investigation before this happened, there is more ground now. Those who lost through the slump are entitled to know what started the panic and sent the price down overnight, and who is to blame.

The investigating should go on promptly, and it should be done by someone who is not interested in the wheat trade, not by a member or officer of the Dominion Government, which is heavily engaged in that speculative enterprise.

COERCING THE CITIES

Calgary's council refused to cut down relief allowances, in face of a warning from Mayor Bowyer that the city would be closed if the present allowances are continued.

Council perhaps thought if the appropriation that next week the city would be closed if the present allowances are continued.

Unless allowances in Calgary are substantially higher than in Edmonton they are not fair to the poor, and a flat reduction of the hardship on people who find it difficult to get along on the present "dole."

The Calgary council in that case only refused to make itself the instrument of the Dominion and Provincial Governments for grinding the victims of unemployment. Edmonton's council should take note of this.

If the Governments want to take milk from the babies they should take the responsibility. The "lump sum" grant arrangement they enforced is a scheme by which the Governments hope to save money by forcing the city councils to slash relief allowances or accept their taxpayer's wrath. They should place the Governments to do their own dole.

GOOD BUSINESS

Hon. Robert Weir's bright idea to start a war of extermination on cattle in the dry areas of the west seems to have burned out like a meteor.

Instead, the Government of Alberta is buying seven or eight thousand head from farmers and ranchers in the dry districts who have not fed for winter, reselling them at many times the price of the cattle farmers in central and northern areas, and sending the rest to the packing plants.

Congratulations are due to Hon. P. S. Girard, Alberta's minister of agriculture, for any part played in late-tracking the wholesale slaughter scheme, and for the plan that he placed a plan that has the elements of business sense.

There is more feed available in central and northern Alberta than could be eaten by all the cattle in the province. To kill cattle simply to get rid of them, and let this feed go to waste, would be folly if it were not for the fact that it is to be hoped that in carrying out this plan, the Minister will allow liberal terms to farmers to buy feed to use in the dry districts. If that arrangement is made, only cattle not worth feeding through the winter need be slaughtered, farmers with feed left will be able to sell it and be enabled to turn it to account, and Alberta will be in position to take advantage of the opportunity to sell surplus cattle.

On some important matters of policy, the other camp in the United States leaves that country short of breeding animals or beef, or both.

GOVERNMENT SETS THE RATES

There is no longer any ground for pretense that Canada could have not refunded its debt wholesale two or three years ago, at greatly reduced rates of interest.

The suggestion given to the new loan and any claim that the money could not have been got. Every bond issue that has been offered in the meantime, at reduced rates, has been bought promptly. The new loan, at still lower rates, is being taken up rapidly. That it will be fully subscribed goes without saying.

Money is not anything like the interest that is being paid by governments and municipalities on bonds they issued years ago. Every person who reads the newspapers knows that. Naturally the man who has money in bonds is anxious to lend it to the Government at 2.57 per cent on a two-year term, or 2.81 per cent on a five-year term. He would be foolish to not do so. There is no other place where he can invest it with comparable security. The last four years have taught him that in convincing fashion.

And the rates the Government offers are still higher than they need to be. The Government, in point of fact, does not have to pay interest to anybody. It only does that because governments have done it in the past, and it hasn't the courage to break with tradition. And it is paying generously even at the reduced rates.

Holding the power to create money, instead of borrowing it, the Government can set the rate it will pay if it does borrow. The new loan has been floated at 3 per cent for the long term bonds, and correspondingly lower for the short-term bonds. The bank would not dare to let the loan fall, even at those rates. For if it failed, the Government would have to turn to borrowing money, and use the public credit with interest, instead of private parties.

For the same reason the Government could have refunded its debt in the last few years ago if it had dared to do so, and saved $50,000,000 a year to the taxpayers.

Poems That Live

Now that the moonlight withers from the sky
Like love within my heart, who's left to do
That dreams alone until the day I die
On some island, some remote, some far
Believe there was a day when for a space
I looked into your unweary eyes
To feel, to know, to understand
Arise and beautiful and voice
Or dream I hear your voice in the deep noise
Of dawn, one bird awake, and feel your hand
On mine, and feel your hand on mine
Your dreamy thoughts, knowing I understand
That to justify you thus and rest
Believe there was a day when for a space
I looked into your unweary eyes
To feel, to know, to understand
Arise and beautiful and voice
Or dream I hear your voice in the deep noise
Of dawn, one bird awake, and feel your hand
On mine, and feel your hand on mine
Your dreamy thoughts, knowing I understand
That to justify you thus and rest
Believe there was a day when for a space
I looked into your unweary eyes
To feel, to know, to understand
Arise and beautiful and voice
Or dream I hear your voice in the deep noise
Of dawn, one bird awake, and feel your hand

Only Margaret's Beauty Survive Shiny Nose

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty," the lovely Margaret Sullivan, whose favorite working costume is a pair of slacks and a jersey, confesses that she doesn't mind having a shiny nose now and then. Peggy isn't the girl to spend hours on just pinching up. And she really doesn't need to. For any girl possessing Peggy's flawless complexion really doesn't have to worry if her nose gets shiny once in a while.

However, the average girl, who is not blessed with so perfect a skin usually can't afford to have a shiny nose. It's too likely to reveal the flaws in her complexion. And there's nothing like a healthy complexion of powder to conceal complexion and to enhance the basic loveliness of one's appearance.

Don't intend, of course, to give any woman the impression that she must literally coat her face with powder in order to make her skin look attractive. But I do believe that powder helps. And I feel that those women who have difficulty in finding a powder that adheres well and gives a soft, peach-like effect of youth, make the mistake of choosing either too light or too heavy a powder for their particular type of skin. There are you know, light, heavy and medium textured powders. But women often do not know which type is most appropriate for use on their own skin.

The majority of oil-skinned women have the idea that they must use a very heavy powder, so that it will stay on and cover any shine. But this isn't true. For heavy powders cling just as well as heavy powders if they have the property of adherence. And indeed, when the skin is oily, a heavy powder may prove detrimental by clogging and distorting the pores. The best type of powder for the normal or oily skin is the kind that, while adherent is fine enough to permit the excretion of moisture, and thus prevent any shine.

Dry-skinned individuals generally choose very light, fine powders. They are of the opinion that the more the type of powder for the dry skin, however, is the kind made on a proper cream base, or containing a bit of almond oil. For such powders will not dry out the natural moisture of the skin, but will rather help to keep it soft and smooth.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Teeth

Doris: I'd suggest that you have your teeth cleaned and polished by a dentist to remove all tartarum matter. Proper cleaning will keep your teeth white and sparkling.

Figure

Bea: The reducing course in my "New Figure" booklet is indeed a beautiful and effective one. This course takes off about 8 to 10 pounds in two weeks and includes reduction of the bust, waist, hips, abdomen, buttocks and thighs.

Blonde Hair Rise

Patsy: The blonde hair rinse comes in the form of an emulsion, one tablespoon of vinegar, one tablespoon of peroxide and a pint of clear water.

WORTH THE FIGHT TO GET TO THE HOCKEY LEAGUE

NEW WESTMINSTER TEAM READY FOR FINAL GAMES

BARRIE, Oct. 4.—New Westminster Salmon Bellies' champion of the west, arrived here this morning for the Dominion lacrosse championship series with Orillia Terrors. The series will be held Oct. 5, 6 and 7 with a fourth game if necessary in Toronto and a fifth in Orillia.

Salmon Bellies will make their bid for the Mann Cup in Barrie's new arena. They played their last game in Kelowna last Sunday and are expected to head a practice to receive the travelling kings.

Greatest Player Deal in History of Hockey Made

Jerome Herman, the pride of the Deans, carried another pitching victory for himself yesterday but it happened to be a world series win, which is somewhat different from the other 30 games he has won this year. Apparently, the elder of the Deans, pitcher, has been called to the "hot plate" by the "press" because he had little more than a "breeze" yesterday. Detroit never seriously troubled him in his first start of baseball's annual fall classic. He was master of the situation at his first three games but it was his third game in six days, and above all, he left himself ready for only two more pitching jobs in the current series.

As a result of yesterday's win, St. Louis must be listed as strong favorites to take the "world's" championship. The "press" has the all-important first game in the bag, an apparently superior pitching staff, and the necessary players with world series experience.

Unable to get a good opponent for Eddie Weirich here in time for a bout on Thursday night, "Cap" Kaplinsky has decided to wait until the holiday season, but will pitch on Oct. 10 for his next boxing card. "It is hard for a promoter to sacrifice to get a good opponent for a fighter," Kaplinsky said. "I would rather wait until the holiday season than to present a show which would not meet with the approval of fans who have made it possible for the mitt game to have a strong comeback in Edmonton." On October 18, he will, by the way, be heading for the mountains to the west to do some shooting before going into training for the next fight.

Entry list of the Edmonton Bulletin's 10-mile road race on Thanksgiving Day was swelled to six yesterday. "It is now includes two former winners—Aval Carlsen, of Falmouth, and Jack Walberg, of Saskatoon—which promises to make it more interesting than ever.

Carlsen and Walberg, incidentally, are against each other as boys in their native Finland and are expected to give each other a personal feud. "Both have plenty of class in this distance race," said the Bulletin.

Roger Jenkins and Leroy Goldworthy, Edmonton members of the 1934 world hockey champions, Chicago Blackhaws, were yesterday traded to the Montreal Canadiens in exchange for a pair of "biggest deals yet made in major hockey." Both are valuable assets to any NHL team with which they play. Jenkins is making no mistake in getting them. "He is a real find," said Goldworthy, who left last night for Winnipeg.

JUNIOR GRID PLANS TO BE RE-ARRANGED

Officials Decided to Drop All-Stars—Enter Two Teams in Finals

Edmonton will not be represented by an all-star junior league football squad in provincial playoffs as originally planned, but by one of two regular junior squads from the city. The decision was made at a special meeting of the league executive last night. The all-star team was discarded and two teams, one Edmonton Athletic club and the other Klummen, were entered in the campaign for provincial playoffs.

The original plan arranged by the league was for an all-star team to enter the finals against the Klummen. A best-two-game series was arranged for between the two teams. The Klummen team, however, was not approved of by both club managers and players, and the affair was put off by all concerned for a number of days.

Dizzy One Is Winner Of Opener

Five errors, Dizzy Dean's Great Pitching Gives Victory to St. Louis In Opener By Margin of 8 to 3

By ALAN GULLE
DETROIT, Oct. 4.—The front-line of the Tiger defense, the iron-man infield that they heralded as the "Battalion of Death," crumbled and fell back Wednesday in wild disorder, spreading nothing but doom to Detroit's hopes as the rampant St. Louis Cardinals poured through gaping holes to sweep victory in the first skirmish of the 1934 world's championship baseball battle.

Five errors by this jittery Tiger infield in the first three innings, most of them mistakes that a sandlotter would have been ashamed of, enabled the National League champions to take quick command of the proceedings and then smash the remnants of Detroit's resistance in a powerful blow.

By J. J. Medwick, slugging outfielder who tied a world series record with four straight hits, including a home run.

INTERCOLLEGIATE GRID UNION OUT OF PLAYOFF

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—With the withdrawal of the Intercollegiate Union from the Eastern Canadian football senior play-offs, the Dominion title may be decided by the same procedure as last season. Champions of the Interprovincial and Ontario Football Unions met last year for eastern honors and the survivors clashed with the west's winners in the final.

At the same time, the Canadian Rugby Union's plan to have the final in western Canada was agreed upon.

DETROIT'S INFIELD CRACKS UP AS CARDINALS WIN FIRST TILT

World Series Sidelines
By PAUL MICKELSON
DETROIT, Oct. 4.—It was a typical football day Wednesday—solid and raw, and the Tigers were simply handed the game to the Cardinals and the Cardinals won it like they did the National League pennant.

Dizzy Dean posed happily with Al Schacht, the Washington Post's sports editor, before the battle began and then went out to collect the big one himself with the aid of "Ducky" Wadsworth.

The heavy-eyed bleacherites, most of whom had stood at the front of the first game, were when it was announced the game was being held up to enable thousands of out-of-town ticket-holders to get in. The game was delayed for 18 minutes, and how the bleacherites shouted in derision.

Celebrities were numerous, but the great Dizzy kept the crowd from getting too close. Kenen Mountain Leland, high manager of baseball, sat near the Cardinal dugout. Babe Ruth and solemn looked on from the press box.

Roger Hornsby, who led the Cardinals to their thrilling world series conquest in '28, was in the box. He was wearing a hat with the name "Rogers" on it. The "Rajah" now manages of St. Louis Browns, was clothed with the Tigers for several hours, diagnosing every Cardinal player and the "Rajah" master mind against error.

There were 321 seats in the press box, all occupied. Hundreds of fans, however, were streaming out to all corners of the stadium.

Alvin Crowder, deserted by his defense, was the nearest victim of all when he stepped up to bat in the third inning. Dizzy was blown in the same inning, however, by a "duster" at Cochrane in the fourth.

Not content with this initial gift of two runs, the Cardinals should have been retired without scoring. The Tigers blew up again in the third. Medwick singled to start this inning but with an easy double by Pepper Martin's hot bat, the Cardinals were in the relay back to first base. Medwick was forced out but Collins scampored to second on the error and then ran all the way home as Deane's hard grounder drifted into the glove.

STILL HEAT AND PRICES

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4.—"Malicious gossip mongers" took a slap in the face today from John J. McFarland, general manager of the Canadian wheat pools central selling agency, as he defined word on investigation of selling operations on the Winnipeg grain exchange was available.

Facing rumors the Canadian government wheat holdings were being dumped on the market, Mr. McFarland last night declared the government agency would not sell any wheat until the actual conditions of the market were ascertained. He added, and would continue to do so.

Still unknown was the total wheat holdings of the government agency, whose operations are directed by the Wheat Pools. No matter what the total, the grain will not be sold until it is ready to be exported or go direct to miller.

Meanwhile, the council of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange continued discussions of its position in respect to Mr. McFarland's recent move of selling operations, which he added, should extend to the Liverpool and Buenos Aires markets.

Mr. McFarland, however, was excessive selling in comparison with actual marketing of wheat, and alleged foreign interests were attempting to beat down Winnipeg prices.

Clothed with wider powers than previously, the Executive Committee of the Exchange yesterday but no announcement was forthcoming.

It is understood the analysis of trading operations previously made by the council was under way. When completed it is made the subject of further study by the council.

"It should be remembered," said Mr. McFarland, "the fundamental reason for government purchase and stabilization operations is to provide a market for the best possible price. To this end, the government agency has been supporting prices ever since the fall movement began, and is continuing such support."

SITUATION UNCHANGED

"Let me reiterate," Mr. McFarland said, "that despite recent pressure on the price structure from abroad, the fundamental conditions of the world grain market are unchanged, and hence the Canadian wheat pool's position is unchanged."

"The fact that the Canadian wheat pool is not in a position to sell wheat at a profit is a very real and serious matter, and it is not in a position to do so."

U.S. FINANCES BIG PROBLEM FOR FUTURE

Billion for Relief, Five Times as Much for Bonds, Needed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The United States government's financial program for the first quarter of the fiscal year left behind today was more closely scrutinized and hence the subject of more conflicting speculation than any time in history.

Reports that an additional $1,000,000,000 or more would be sought for relief this winter met the same silence as treasury circles as the question of how the money would be raised to meet heavy emergency expenditures are definitely unsettled between now and July 1.

One thing is certain, whether or not relief expenditures increase above those now projected, heavy borrowing of new money will be undertaken some time after the first of the year.

In addition, the government must meet $300,000,000 of maturing obligations in 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938, and other short term paper, before July.

The approach of October 15, the last day of which approximately $250,000,000 of fourth Liberty Bonds may be called for payment April 15, drew attention to President Roosevelt's reference in his Sunday speech to the $100,000,000 interest saving effected by Great Britain in its 1932 conversion operation.

In some quarters, this was taken as a plan implication that at least part of the Liberty would be called for refunding at lower rates.

Whether the government could conduct a large scale conversion operation with a considerable interest saving in its existing debt was a question in some quarters.

In Pennsylvania, Baltimore, telephone service was apparently halted last night which laid its eggs in the cable sheathings, where the larvae bored holes into the lines.

The largest industrial subscription to the $100,000,000 mark at the close of the third day of the selling campaign for the $250,000,000 new Liberty bonds was the Standard Oil Company, which subscribed for $10,000,000.

In giving out this total last night, however, the Standard Oil Company admitted the influence of subscriptions from industrial and commercial firms was beginning to make itself felt. Numerous buyers of this type were included in the list today, though the subscriptions of some of the largest institutions in the country have not yet been included.
